

A few words from our President

The committee has been busy working on the yearly calendar. We have a busy year ahead but not so busy we cannot fit in other ideas. If you think up something exciting to do email the committee and let them know.

We have had our first workshop which was on Social media, I learnt that one has to be proactive across all platforms, Facebook, Instagram and YouTube if one is hoping to sell. Short videos seems to be the way to go.

Lesley provided statistics about who uses social media, the country and age . This was enlightening.

Our AGM is in May and there will be a changing of the guard. I will not be standing again for President and both the Treasurer and Secretary are standing down. They have done great work. Linda had been treasurer for 5 or 6 years and Helen has done a great job as secretary. If you would like to give back to the Society then consider taking up one of these positions. There will be plenty of support. If you want to make friends and find out how an exhibition is organized or you appreciate what the Society provides join the committee.

Cheers
Helen

Hospital art work ...

As you will all know the Society has a space in the Oncology waiting room. The Hospital has kindly asked if we would like to display art in this space and we accepted.

This space is about the benefit of art on the wellbeing. Something to look at while you wait. The chances of selling are very slim but there will be a notice for anyone who wishes to buy to ring a phone number. Prices of the paintings will not be displayed .

The paintings will be changed every 6 weeks alternating between a group and solo shows

All art works must be left at the art room the Thursday prior to date and picked up from art room post display.

Please book in for solo shows,
